

STEVENSON APPOINTED CLARK COUNTY JUDGE

John M. Stevenson was notified last week by Governor James B. McCreary that he had been appointed by the Governor County Judge of Clark to succeed the late Judge J. H. Evans. The Governor talked in person with Mr. Stevenson over the telephone, and stated that the commission had been issued.

Mr. Stevenson is a native of Franklin county, and was educated at Georgetown College. He studied law at the Cincinnati University and the University of Michigan, being admitted to the practice of law in Georgetown in 1894. He practiced there until 1902, when he came to Winchester, which was the girlhood home of his wife, formerly Miss Linna Witherspoon, a daughter of Colonel N. H. Witherspoon. Mr. Stevenson is one of the most prominent attorneys and one of the ablest speakers in Kentucky.

NEW FIRM

Winchester is to have another big real estate and building concern, articles of incorporation having been filed Thursday. It will be known as the McCormick Realty Company, and two Mt. Sterling and one Traverse, Fla., gentlemen are the chief incorporators. Their names are J. L. McCormick, Mt. Sterling, 25 shares; O. W. McCormick, Mt. Sterling, 30 shares; Joe McCormick, Traverse, Florida, 50 shares. The capital stock is placed at $20,000, consisting of 200 shares at $100, a greater part of which is all paid in. The company's headquarters will be located in Winchester, and it will do a general real estate business besides contract for buildings of every description. It is not given out, but on good authority it is said that local capital is interested in the concern also. Anyway this promises to be a successful business venture for the stockholders, as those who have organized the company are familiar with the business and will make a success if it is possible to do so.—Winchester Democrat.

SOLD NICE MARE

Mr. Walter Bridges sold last week to Mr. George Priest, of New York, a nice walk-trot mare by Highland Gay for $400. She is said to be a fine prospect for the show rings.

MRS. WILSON DIES

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President of the United States, died at the White House at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Death came after a brave struggle for months against Bright's disease with complications.

The President was completely unnerved by the shock and his grief was heart rending. He bore up well, however, under the strain, and devoted himself to his daughters. The end came while Mrs. Wilson was unconscious. Her illness took a turn for the worse shortly after 1 o'clock and from then on she grew gradually weaker.

Without any formality, except that of the church and with all the simplicity which she desired, the funeral of Mrs. Wilson was held in the East room of the White House at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. For the day official business was banished from the Executive Mansion and Washington and the nation mourned for the dead.

Immediately after the services the body was taken to Rome, Ga., the burial place of Mrs. Wilson's parents. During the trip through the South the people paid respect by tolling church bells as the special passed. Christ church, in Alexandria, Va., which George Washington attended, joined in this tribute.

Outside of members of the family only members of the cabinet and their wives, the members of special committees from the Senate and House, a few intimate friends and the employees of the White House were present at the services.

INVALID DIES

Mrs. Louisa M. Greenwade, aged 77 years, wife of Samuel Greenwade, one of the most prominent farmers in Montgomery county, died at her home near Spencer, Friday, August 7. She had been an invalid for twenty years but only in the past month had her condition become critical. She was one of the best known and most beloved women of the county. Besides her aged husband she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Polly Hastie and Mrs. Lizzie McCormick, and one brother, Mr. M. H. Lewis, all of this county. Mr. Greenwade was a native of Bath county.

NICE COMPLIMENT

The Kendallville, Ind., Daily News, in speaking of the resignation of Rev. Mr. V. P. Yeaman, D. D., of the Presbyterian church of that city to accept a call to Mt. Sterling says editorially:

The resignation of Dr. M. V. P. Yeaman, from the pastorate of the local Presbyterian church is a loss that will be felt far beyond the boundaries of his own congregation. Though a resident of the city but a short time, as time comes to be measured by those who dwell many years in a place, he had made a distinct place for himself among Kendallville people. Earnest in purpose and direct in method and yet gentle in speech and action, he is especially fitted to be a religious leader in a community of home loving people. Our loss will be Mt. Sterling's gain.

SUES PARTNER

Chas. B. Nelson, half-owner of the Winchester Democrat, filed suit Saturday afternoon against his partner, Steven K. Vaught, and Rev. J. O. A. Vaught, of Ft. Thomas, asking for a dissolution of the existing partnership, a sale of the plant, and a strict accounting of the books.

The petition states that an offer was made by Mr. Nelson to give or take a certain sum for a half interest in the plant, and Mr. Vaught did not produce the money to buy, and refused to sell his interest at the price mentioned.

Pendleton & Bush are the attorneys for Mr. Nelson.

TWO ELECTIONS FOR FAYETTE COUNTY

In the Fayette County Court Monday County Judge Bullock rendered a decision which allows two distinct elections on liquor questions on September 28. He overruled the petition of "drys" that a vote be taken with entire county as unit, holding that statutes covering this point had been so interpreted that cities of second class in counties containing cities of second class could hold separate election.

Both sides seem equally pleased with the decision, the "drys" claiming it gives them added strength, while the "wets" scent victory. Two ballots will be given each voter in the city, and he may vote on city and county alike, but a county voter may not vote on city question. It is forecast that if the "wets" win, the "drys" will appeal from the decision of Judge Bullock.

RETURNS WITH FUGITIVE

Sheriff H. F. Howell has returned from New Richmond, O., where he went for one Andrew Blair, a seventeen-year-old white boy, charged with stealing $231 from his uncle, Mr. Ed. Craycraft, a hard working tenant on the Hurt farm near Sideview. Blair had been living with Mr. Craycraft and learned of the money which Mr. Craycraft and his wife had concealed in their dwelling house. When arrested Blair had a new suit of clothes, a new bicycle, and $140 in currency and a small amount of silver. He refused to return without requisition papers, thus forcing Mr. Howell to go to Columbus, O., after them. He will doubtless be sent to the House of Reform near Lexington.

LATEST EUROPEAN WAR NEWS

Diplomatic relations between France and Austria have been broken and the Ambassadors have left the capitals. The French Foreign Office, in a statement, says the initiative was taken by France because Austrian troops were aiding the Germans.

The French are advancing in Alsace, but against what opposition is not known.

The Germans occupy the city of Liege, while the Belgian troops hold the forts. The Belgian officials' view is that the situation is quite satisfactory. Strong forces guard all the approaches to Brussels.

The North Sea is again closed to the fishing fleets, which is regarded as significant in view of the fact that there are large British and German fleets in that water.

The German cruiser Karlsruhe, which arrived at San Juan, Porto Rico, reported an engagement Friday night off the Bahamas with four British and French cruisers.

The French Government forbids the publication of the French casualties list, so that Germans may not know the movement of the French troops.

All Germans and Austrians in Belgium must declare themselves within twenty-four hours or they will be arrested as spies.

Complete revolution in methods of cotton marketing was proposed before the House Agricultural Committee as a means of relief from depression threatened by the closing of foreign markets during the European war.

Kentuckians are besieging the members of the State delegation in Congress to aid in finding their friends and relatives abroad. All possible assistance is being given.

Americans in Europe are showing less desire to return home since the treasure cruisers started across the Atlantic and the banks began advancing money on demand.

The National Foreign Trades Council held a special meeting in New York to take measures for the relief of the congestion of foreign commerce due to the war.

IN LOUISVILLE FOR TREATMENT

A dispatch from Louisville says: "Suffering from an injury to the spine consequent upon a fall which occurred last spring, Mrs. Allie W. Young, of Morehead arrived in Louisville for a consultation Monday as to the advisability of a surgical operation. It is feared that it may be found necessary to remove a portion of the spinal column. Mrs. Young was met by her husband, who came to Louisville Saturday to arrange for the consultation with Dr. Irwin W. Abell."

Secretary of State Bryan An Edison Disc Enthusiast

Busy as Mr. Bryan has been these days, he yet found time to stop at the Edison agency in Washington and buy an Edison Disc Phonograph.

He has expressed his satisfaction and pleasure in a letter to the Edison agent:

"I have been enjoying the Edison Disc Phonograph long enough to be sure that I shall like it, and from your list of records we have selected a number that please us very much. I am not surprised that there is an ever increasing demand for these instruments. They give to families, at small cost, the best there is in music and are a real and permanent addition to the amusement of the masses."

Our Birthday.

Twenty-four years ago today The Advocate was born, with Mr. John H. Mason and Dr. C. W. Harris as sponsors. Subsequently Mr. Mason was succeeded by Mr. J. W. Hedden, Sr., and Dr. Harris by Mr. B. W. Trimble.

Answerable alone for our own stewardship, we wish to say that during the four years The Advocate Publishing Company, Incorporated, has owned it, those in active charge have striven to favorably present to the people only clean men and measures and to firmly stand for all that makes for morality, law and good order in our midst.

With the experience thus gained and the best equipped newspaper plant and job office in this section of the State, we hope to continue to rejuvenate, regenerate and rebuild The Advocate, making each issue stronger in every department, more influential and a greater factor for clean living and right thinking. In this we ask our readers to continue to help, encourage and sustain us.

We Thank You.

The splendid showing of one John Cripps Wickliffe Beckham, Democratic Senatorial nominee, in Montgomery county is due entirely to the efforts of Messrs. Earl W. and G. B. Senff, who led the fight here for the former Governor. In recognition of a debt of gratitude of long standing these young men made a campaign here for Mr. Beckham that resulted in a majority over both his opponents of 111 votes, and, too, without a cent of corruption fund. They made the fight along clean lines and appealed to the better element of voters only, with the result that their champion was an easy favorite.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Custom of the Wobblers.

Ament the recent primary and the nominees, Editor Steve Vaught observes in the Winchester Democrat:

"A Democratic paper, that is known to be Democratic to the core, that has never been any other way, does not need to come out in strong editorials, following a Democratic primary, that it will support the ticket. That ought to be understood."

Attended Fair.

Esquire T. C. Quisenberry, of Montgomery county, was a visitor in Lexington Friday and attended the Blue Grass Fair. Justice Quisenberry called on County Judge F. A. Bullock and other courthouse officials.—Lexington Herald.

The overwhelming victory of Senator Camden for the short-term senatorial nomination cannot be considered by him, his friends, say, other than a most flattering testimonial and indorsement of his prospective candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination with which his name has been mentioned frequently, even before the death of Senator Bradley, which made possible his elevation to the United States Senate, where he has distinguished himself with credit and ability. The friends and admirers of Senator Camden insist that he can give Kentucky a business-like administration of its affairs and that the vote cast for him in the recent primary was in the nature of a popular demand for him to become a candidate for Governor next year as the one man who has well-settled convictions and ideas of State uplift and a different brand of politics. While Senator Camden has all along refused to seriously consider or discuss the gubernatorial nomination, it is well known that the flattering indorsement given him, a new-comer in politics, by the Democrats of Kentucky has made a deep impression upon him, and his friends and supporters feel much encouraged over the prospect of his acquiescence in standing for the nomination.—Louisville Times.

Is There Graft In It?

One of the most vicious pieces of legislation on our statute books today is our present school book law. Last year one could buy a first class primer at retail for ten cents. Under this law one not a whit better sells for twenty-five cents. The price of all other school books has been increased and under this law the teachers must use these books. Every county in the State will, in this way, pay out unjustly thousands of dollars, yet the dealers are forced to sell them on a beggarly commission and no blame should attach to them. The thought therefore occurs, who gets the difference?

We urge our readers to carefully consider the annual financial statement of the county, which appears in this issue. We have no fault to find with it except the expenditures on account of paupers continue to increase alarmingly. This, it is claimed, is due largely to the maintenance of an unproductive and very costly poor farm. Following the lead of Shelby and other progressive counties, the court at its last meeting ordered the farm sold and we hope to see a substantial reduction in this item of expense during the present fiscal year.

Victory Assured.

Kentucky Democracy redeemed herself and honored her most worthy member by nominating J. C. W. Beckham for the United States Senate, as the Interior Journal believed so sincerely that she would. That he will win an overwhelming victory in November there is not the slightest doubt. He has never been defeated where the people had the say.—Stanford Interior Journal.

HOW TO DANCE THE ONE STEP

By ODGERS T. GURNEE

Illustrated With Specially Posed Photographs

THE one step is the modern renovation of the much discussed turkey trot. In spite of the fact that both dances are often classified under the same general name, they are as different as day is from night, and it is almost an impossibility to dance one to the music of the other. The original turkey trot was performed

WRONG WAY TO HOLD THE GIRL FOR ONE STEP.

ed to rather slow and tuneless music of the negro minstrel show variety, whereas the new one step demands a quick and pulsating tempo. The first principle to be mastered in dancing the one step is to walk gracefully fully on the balls of the feet without bouncing, hopping or dipping. Others of almost as great importance are as follows:

Stand as erect as possible. Do not wave the arms, pump the elbows, or wiggle the shoulders. Do not whirl or spin.

Bearing these things always in mind, it is a simple matter to acquire the easy, graceful swing that is a characteristic of the one step. In holding the lady do not wrap your right arm all the way around her. Rest the right hand on the middle of her back, not on her shoulders, as this tends to throw her left arm up too high.

Bend the left elbow and hold her right hand on a level with the eyes and about three inches from the head. Stand close to her, but do not hold her tightly. The prime essential of good one stepping is to make every move correspond with your partner's so that you form an unbroken line whether dancing straight ahead, dipping or going from side to side.

The first step is merely a walk in time to the music. Take steps in accordance with your partner's height. Another straightaway step that has found great favor in New York and London is the "lame duck." This is danced exactly as the name implies. The man dips on the right foot and takes the usual step with the left. The action is the same as if one leg were a few inches shorter than the other. Above all things, do not make this jerky or draggy. It must be a series of quick but billowy dips and is very attractive to watch when executed correctly.

A good step for rounding corners is taken from the tango. When nearing a corner turn the girl so that you are both facing in the same direction and standing side by side. The man's right arm should be around the girl's waist and his left and her right hand clasped in front on a line and about a foot from their heads. Take three steps forward in this position. At the end of the three steps the man must hold the step for a beat while the girl swings on her left foot and resumes the former position, being face to face.

If these steps are practiced assiduously and particular pains taken in regard to position and carriage, it will not take long to become proficient. Remember that constant practice is necessary in dancing as in everything else.

Maxixe Step In the Trot

SEVERAL of the more recent dances, such as the Brazilian Maxixe, form the basis of some very graceful figures in the one step. In the picture is shown a Maxixe turn done to turkey trot time. The left hands are held above the head, and the right hands are clasped behind the girl's back. In this way it is possible to turn the girl completely around on the turns and reverse the position. During the turn the man stands practically still, only moving his feet enough to keep in time.

WHAT'S AN EDITOR,

ANYHOW?

A little village boy was given the stunt by his father to write an essay on editors, and here is the result:

"Don't know how newspapers came to be in the world. I don't think God does for he haint got nothing to say about them and editors in the Bible. I think the editor is one o the missing links you read of, and stays in the bushes until after the flood, and then came out and wrote the thing up, and has been here ever since. I don't think he ever died."

"I never saw a dead one and never heard of one getting licked. Our paper is a mighty good one; but the editor goes without underclothes all winter and don't wear any socks and paw ain't paid his subscription since the paper started. I ast paw if that was why the editor had to suck the juice out of snowballs in winter and go to bed when he had his shirt washt in summer. And then paw took me out to the woodshed and licked me awful hard. If the editor makes a mistake folks say he ought to be hung, but if a doctor makes any mistakes he buries them and the people dassent say nothing, because the doctor can read and write Latin."

"When the editor makes a mistake there is a lawsuit and swearing and a big fuss; but if a doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anybody else knowing what it means; but if the editor uses one he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife he charges for the visit; but if the editor goes he gets a charge of buckshot."

"When a doctor gets drunk it is a case of being overdone by the heat and if he dies it is from heart trouble; when the editor gets drunk it's a case of too much booze, and if he dies it's the jim-jams. Any old college can make a doctor; a editor has to be born."—Exchange.

COUNCIL CHANGES

The City Council in regular session Tuesday night failed to pass the brick street ordinance over the veto of Mayor Oldham. The ordinance passed at the regular meeting in July by a vote of six to two and called for the paving in brick of West Main, West High, East Locust, North Sycamore, Wilson and Pleasant Alleys. It was immediately vetoed by Mayor Oldham. The backers of the measure, however, were sanguine that they would be able to pass it over the Mayor's head until violent protests begun to come in from those residents along the proposed improvements and three of the original supporters changed their vote. Councilmen McKee, Stephens and Botts were the only members who backed the ordinance to the last.

Tipton H. Wilson, individual bookkeeper at the Mt. Sterling National Bank, was elected City Tax Collector to succeed the late B. J. McDonald. Mr. Wilson is one of Mt. Sterling's most energetic young business men and possesses many sterling qualities and fine ability. He will make a splendid official.

Very little other business of importance was transacted by the Council.

OLD MANSION TO BE SOLD

The old Executive Mansion, the site of which the Commonwealth acquired by gift in 1794 as part of the consideration for choosing Frankfort for the capital, will be sold at auction September 12 at 2 o'clock. Gov. McCreary and the entire State Capitol Commission will be present on that occasion. The lot, 345 by 150 feet in dimensions, with the Mansion, in which Governors for 100 years, until this year, have lived, will be offered in parcels or six lots, then ten lots and then as a whole, the sale being made in the manner which will realize the largest price.

In 1792, when under the first Constitution a committee was authorized to select the location of the capitol, and Lexington and other cities contended with Frankfort for the site, 100 acres of land were parceled into lots in Frankfort, every other one being given to the State. The old capitol site, the prison and the Mansion grounds were part of the tract.

The last General Assembly passed an act directing the sale of the old Mansion and the application of the proceeds to the balance due on the new Mansion. The Mansion grounds occupy half a block between Clinton, Ann and High streets, running back from Clinton street to Governor's alley.

WRESTLING MATCH

Mt. Sterling people will have another opportunity to see Jack Stone, the big Swedish wrestler, in action at the Tabb Opera House here on the night of Wednesday, August 12, when he hooks up with Young Olson, of Indianapolis, Ind., who is heralded as "the most scientific mat artist in America."

Young Olson, the brother of the famous Charley Olson, in his day one of the topnotchers of the wrestling game, has made a wide reputation on his own account. He has met and defeated some of the best men in the business, including Billy Edwards, Gus Kuvaris, Billy Jenkins, and many others. In fact the kid has only lost two contests in his whole career, both of which went to Ed Lewis, whom Mt. Sterling fight fans know well.

Of Stone it is not necessary to speak. He has made a place for himself in the hearts of all local fight fans.

The coming contest is sure to be a hummer and if you miss it you'll be sorry. Come early and avoid the rush. It's going to be the best match yet.

Dr. Anna Shaw, president of the National Woman's suffrage association, says the marriage service for one thing is a poor parrot affair. The methods used in reciting the pledge, she says is ridiculous to say the least, and in her opinion there is no solemnity, dignity or character to that kind of marriage. Anno is 60 and can afford to sneer at the marriage ceremony. Her future is behind her.

SOME FACTS IN REGARD TO CRIMSON CLOVER

Crimson clover is a cover and green manure crop of such value that every farmer in the State of Kentucky could find use for it on his farm. No other crop grown for similar purposes possesses as many advantages as crimson clover. Seeding is cheap—an important consideration. It may be seeded late in the summer after small grain crops are removed or in cultivated crops after cultivation ceases. It protects the soil during the winter and spring and furnishes large quantities of material rich in nitrogen which can be plowed under in sufficient season to permit planting corn or other cultivated crop. It is in fact a crop which interferes with few of the regular crops commonly grown on the farm and yet capable of improving soil almost as much as the longer lived red clover. While it is preeminently a soil improving crop, it will furnish fall and early spring pasture and will make considerable hay of fair quality. Red clover is proving a failure in so many cases that we must use something to take its place if we are to maintain the productiveness of our soils, and crimson clover is undoubtedly the best substitute we have.

Many farmers have had poor success with crimson clover, and this has led to the belief that it is not adapted to Kentucky conditions. Most of these failures were doubtless due to a lack of knowledge of the requirements of the crop and careless and thoughtless methods of seeding. Crimson clover will not succeed every year and the farmer should learn when to plant it and when not to. It will succeed in most seasons, however, if rightly handled, and the crop is of such tremendous value that every farmer should make repeated tests with it until he learns how to grow it or proves decisively that it cannot be grown on his land. The following instructions will help the crop to succeed:

Do not plant in corn or cultivated crops of any kind unless there is abundant moisture at the time of the seeding.

When planting alone prepare a good seed bed. A good seed bed is one that is fine and made firm by rolling.

Cover the seed carefully. Every seed not covered will probably be lost. Do not cover too deeply, however, or the seed may not get up. A clover drill is splendid for sowing crimson clover seed.

Do not sow later than the first of September and preferably by the middle of August.

Get good seed. Buy it by sample and test it for germination. Plant 100 seeds in a box of clean sand and keep the sand moist. If less than 90 seeds grow, refuse to buy the seed.

Do not pasture too close in the fall, nor too late, for if you do it will certainly winter kill.

Do not plant on a poor thin piece of land without first fertilizing. In most cases an application of 200 pounds of acid phosphate per acre will be a satisfactory treatment.

Do not plant on wet or poorly drained land. No clover will grow on such land.

A Sufferer From Rheumatism for 25 Years Tells What The Great Andes Medicines Did for Him

When anyone has suffered from an ailment for 25 or 30 years the disease has become chronic and in many cases incurable, especially so in Rheumatism, as it is a well known fact that there are few medicines that will eliminate uric acid entirely from the system. Andes' great prescription, where properly used and given a good, fair and impartial trial, will positively remove all uric acid from the system by its action on the kidneys.

And where the joints have become stiff or swollen Andes' Oil used externally with the Great Prescription, will cure any case that is curable.

Mr. J. W. H. Jennings, of 502 Columbus street, has been a chronic sufferer from Rheumatism for 25 or 30 years. He says: "I have spent many a dollar for medicine that has done me no good whatever. I have been using Andes' Prescription and Oil about two weeks, and it has done me more real good than any medicine I have ever taken."

Andes' Prescription cures all forms of Kidney, Liver and Bladder troubles, Weak Back, Pains over Kidneys, having frequent desire to empty the bladder, skin yellow or sallow, losing flesh, appetite poor, tongue coated, bad taste in mouth on arising, weak spells, dizzy and lightness of head, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, bloating and fullness after meals, constipated, sick nervous headaches and hot flashes. Price, Andes' Great Prescription, $1.00 per bottle, 3 for $2.50, 6 for $5.00.

Order by mail if you can't call. All directions and information enclosed with each shipment. Also the valuable book, "Health and Happiness," sent and given to every caller free.

Andes' Great Oil has no equal for curing deafness. Mr. H. T. Crawford, of 329 South Holt street, 65 years of age, has been hard of hearing for a number of years. Last night before an audience of 4,000 he was made to understand, anything 40 feet away. Ringing, roaring, hissing, buzzing, sounds, contracting cold early, ears stopped up, wax dry in ear, all these troubles can be overcome by using Andes' Oil in and around ear, and the Great Prescription must be used internally. Price of the Great Oil, 50 cents per bottle, 3 for $1.25.

These are the medicines that are doing so much good in Montgomery county. They are sold by The Mt. Sterling Drug Co. and W. S. Lloyd. Adv.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE SNAGTOWN TORCH

H. E. Megginson says he wishes the people would get things straight before they set to talking about it. He made the announcement from the top of a rail fence the other day that he expected to die in Snagtown. Someone reported this to someone else, and the report was started that Mr. Megginson was dying. Then the report traveled in every direction, and by the time it reached Wildcat Hill it was told that he tried to commit suicide.

The fish in the creeks are needing rain very bad at present. It has not rained in so long every time the fish hear it thunder they gather under the Gimlet creek bridge. The young fish are growing up as thin as razor back hogs, and will not be worth catching, the dry weather having caused the scales to peel off their backs. It will only be a matter of a

DEATH OF JUDGE EVANS

In the death of Judge James H. Evans, which occurred in Winchester last Wednesday morning, Clark county and the State of Kentucky have lost one of its most worthy, competent and popular public servants. For 16 years he had been County Judge of Clark county and was one of the most beloved and highly esteemed men in this section.

Judge Evans had been confined to his home for the past three weeks, and had been growing steadily weaker, in spite of all that medical science could do for him. For the past year he has been suffering with a malignant form of cancer of the mouth, and even the radium treatment which he went to Baltimore to receive, failed to give relief. Judge Evans was born in Clark county, in what is now the Wades' Mill precinct, in 1844, and was a son of O. P. Evans and Nancy Thompson. Both his father's and mother's families were among the pioneers of Clark, and were among the most prominent farmers in that section. He was married to Miss Katie Gay, daughter of Dunlap Gay. Three children were born to them, two sons, Curtis and Lee, and one daughter, Nannie, who was married to Chas. C. Quisenberry, and who died some years ago, leaving two children, Evans Quisenberry and Mrs. Leon Renaker. The death of Judge Evans is learned with deepest regret here, where he had many warm friends.

WILLIAM HARRIS HELD FOR PERGRAM MURDER

Charged in a warrant sworn out by James Pergram with the murder of his brother, Enoch Pergram, William Harris, alias Sandford Harris, of Bath county, was arrested and taken to Lexington Wednesday morning by Sheriff M. M. Manley and Deputy Sheriff W. A. Boyd, of Bath county, and lodged in the county jail. Pergram was shot to death from ambush near Salt Lick in Bath county on the night of Saturday, July 11, and was hurried the following day to the Good Samaritan Hospital where he died the day after the shooting. His body was returned the following day to Salt Lick for burial.

At the time of the assassination Bryan Pergram, a brother of the slain man, was instantly killed and Marshall Pergram, his father, seriously injured, though he has recovered.

Saturday Attorney C. A. Nesbitt, of Bath county, accompanied by James Pergram, uncle of the man killed, went to Lexington and went before Justice Charles M. Parrish where the warrant was sworn out and taken back to Bath county for service. Harris was not apprehended until last Wednesday when he quietly surrendered and was taken to Lexington by the officers.

Harris was taken before County Judge F. A. Bullock, who set his examining trial for Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

When seen at the county jail Harris stoutly maintained he was innocent of the charge and that he knew nothing about it. He said he was a poor man and had a wife and three small children depending on him.

Harris is of medium stature and and is about twenty-six years old and says he is a farmer. He declined to talk further.

About one year ago Thurman Pergram, a cousin of Enoch Pergram, was killed, it is said by James Harris, a brother of the man in jail. James Harris was killed about three months ago by Cleveland Pergram. Both families are among the largest in Bath county.

Several men who used to go a fast clip in days gone by, and escaped being caught, are mighty chesty now in the matter of assumed morals.

THE PRICE OF WAR

Associated Press dispatches carry the information that all of Europe is in arms. Countries directly involved in the approaching war are waiting only to get their armies and navies in the proper condition before striking a blow. Seven great countries are about to clash in what will be the greatest war of modern times. Germany and Austria-Hungary are arrayed against three powerful European countries and two smaller ones. Alliance between one country or the other has drawn the great powers into a conflict. There seems but little opportunity for the dove of peace to intervene and prevent bloodshed.

Austria-Hungary displeased over the reply of Serbia in regard to the punishment of the assassin of Crown Prince Ferdinand, and other matters, put up to the Government immediately began preparations to invade the Slave country. At the first sign of hostilities Russia prepared for her defense and this was the signal for a general preparation for war among all the European countries. In the hasty preparations Serbia seems to have been forgotten, but corp after corp has been prepared for the field and are being rushed to the scenes of possible conflict.

England is the last country to declare war. King George made an effort to prevent war, but the violation of the Belgium neutrality law by Germany, in that the Kaiser's troops cross on Belgium soil to the French frontier, caused a breach between those countries and has drawn Great Britain in the controversy.

At present there are no signs of turbulent Europe being restored to peace until the blood of thousands have been spilled in battle. The lives of thousands and maybe millions may be sacrificed because of the failure to adjust a slight difficulty between two of Europe's smaller powers. The effect will be far-reaching. Death and destruction will mark every move of the allied armies; the flowers of the fields over which peace has so long reigned, will be stained with carnage; nations may go bankrupt and it may take them years to recover. This is the price of war—is it worth the price?

Mining coal is hell. The latest explosion blotted out 250 miners near Calgary, Canada. More lives have been lost in American mines within a year than soldiers have been slain in Mexico. War correspondents slay their hundreds, but this is done on paper. Two thousand widows and 5,000 orphans are living witnesses of the colliery horrors of 1914. Whenever there's a vacancy there is an applicant ready to fill it.

"Cured"

Mrs. Jay McGee, of Stephenville, Texas, writes: "For nine (9) years, I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me."

GOOD ROADS

WILL BE HAD

A concerted effort is now being made throughout the State of Kentucky in behalf of better highways and the general improvement of road conditions. This movement is being started by the Kentucky Good Roads Association, Kentucky Division of the National Highways Association. Every citizen of this great Commonwealth is vitally interested in what the above mentioned organization proposes, regardless of his business holding he is directly or indirectly affected from the improvement of road conditions. The General Assembly of 1914, in this State, enacted a law designating a system of inter-county highways which when completed will connect every county seat with the adjoining county seat in the State, also these inter-county roads will connect with the main State Roads in the adjoining states.

At the present time the State of Kentucky is very fortunate in having a very competent highway department which is co-operating to the fullest extent with all counties in the State, which are willing, and anxious to take State aid. Mr. R. C. Terrell, Commissioner of Public Roads, has full supervision of the State highway department and being very anxious that the good roads propaganda be a success in Kentucky, has kindly consented to act as Secretary of the Kentucky Good Roads Association and is giving no small amount of his personal time to this worthy project. It might be well to mention that only a short period of ten years ago Kentucky was foremost in the improvement of her highways, having more miles of improved roads than any state in the union, while today she ranks far down the list, chiefly by reason of the fact that Eastern and Middle-Western states have become very active. State organizations having been formed which has brought the states mentioned to a full realization of the immensity of the good roads project which has resulted in many miles of main market and inter-county roads being built.

Mr. Z. D. Dunlap, Assistant Director General of the National Body will be in the state for a period of thirty days, to assist Mr. Robert E. Woods, the chosen State Director of the Kentucky Division in permanently launching county division Good Road Clubs in different counties of the State, each county division to operate through the State organization as a central unit.

The Kentucky Good Roads Association will organize the Montgomery County Division Good Roads Clubs at the Court House in Mt. Sterling on Friday, August 14, at 1 o'clock. Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Woods will address those in attendance on the subject.

It is the purpose of the Association to organize a county good roads club in every county to operate in conjunction with the Association as a central body, the purpose of which is to create and crystallize public sentiment in behalf of good roads and the general improvement of education and other conditions. While this is purely a voluntary movement, it is in full sympathy with and has the hearty approval and co-operation of the State Department of Public Roads.

Surely much good can be accomplished through the medium of such an organization in the State of Kentucky, and if the citizenship will give this movement the co-operation that it should receive, it will only be a matter of a short time until the Good Roads subject will have become the paramount issue in Kentucky.

PREVENTION OF DREADED DISEASE

The prevalence of black leg in cattle has resulted in many requests upon the Experiment Station for information and assistance in controlling this disease. Prevention is the keynote to all efforts looking to the control and eradication of black leg. A summary of all methods thus far put into practice warrants their subdivision into two chief divisions: "The Environment of the Animals," and "Protective Vaccination."

The Environment of the Animals. Under this heading everything that leads up to a better condition of the soil in an effort to destroy the organisms already present, may be practiced. Frequent inundations should be prevented by the proper control of large streams. Often it is advisable to abandon dangerous lands for a season, or if the infected area is not large it may be permanently fenced off. It is of paramount importance that all carcasses of animals that have died of black leg should be destroyed, either by deep burial or preferably by burning. If the animal dies in the pasture it should be burned on the spot, and the ground in the immediate neighborhood thoroughly disinfected with chloride of lime or an abundance of ordinary unslacked lime. If, however, it becomes necessary to remove the carcasses to some other point, it should be remembered that the ground over which it moved, and everything with which it comes in contact may become infected, and requires thorough disinfection. For utensils, sheds, etc., a five per cent. solution of chloride of lime is efficient if they are thoroughly soaked in it, preferably for one hour or longer.

When the carcasses are buried care should be taken that the drainage from the grave does not infect new pastures. It is always desirable to cover the bottom of the pit with lime or other strong disinfectant. Any or all of the above precautions may, under certain conditions, be impracticable to the farmer and in this emergency vaccination becomes an immediate necessity.

Make application to Dr. S. F. Musselman, State Veterinarian, for regulations for the proper disposal of animals dying from this disease.

Protective Vaccination. As the result of investigations carried on by French scientists it has been found that when a very small quantity of the muscle juice from an animal dead from black leg is injected beneath the skin of susceptible cattle an immunity is established which protects them against subsequent inoculations of larger amounts of highly virulent material. The next advance was made when the diseased muscle was ground and heated for several hours at very high temperatures. The heated product was administered in two doses, at an interval of seven to ten days. This procedure was naturally cumbersome when large numbers of cattle were to be treated, and this process has been simplified by the use of just one inoculation. This modified method has been adopted by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, and up to this date something over 13,000,000 cattle have been vaccinated, resulting in a reduction in mortality from black leg to less than one-ninth of one per cent. When it is considered that before vaccination was employed in infested districts ten per cent. of all cattle died from this disease before reaching maturity, the practical value of preventive vaccination against black leg should be unquestioned among cattle raisers.

Forms of Vaccine. Black leg vaccine prepared according to the above technique appears on the market in various forms. The pellet and cord are the most common ones met with because they are more easily administered, but each presents disadvantages, chiefly in securing accurate dosage, which difficulty can be overcome by the use of the finely powdered muscle. Since the latter form has given such uniformly good results its use is heartily recommended.

Black leg vaccine made by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, accompanied by detailed information for its use, can be procured free of charge upon application to the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Meanwhile equipment for the manufacture of black leg vaccine will be installed in the Veterinary Department of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, so that veterinarians and farmers can secure the same at any time, and protect their cattle against this disease in the spring and fall of the year.

McCREARY COUNTY TO RECORD NO ILLITERACY

McCreary county, the infant county of Kentucky, created by the General Assembly of 1912, and named in honor of Governor James B. McCreary has a high ambition for itself in its educational ranking. The county officials, teachers and citizens have banded themselves together to have its first census, when taken in 1920, record "no illiterates." Their plan is to obliterate illiteracy during the next three years, and to watch the field during the remaining three, seeking out and teaching all who come in. Superintendent Nora E. Alcorn is leading the campaign, and fifty-one moonlight schools will start on September 7th.

MORE BURGLARS

Burglars attempted to enter the residence of R. P. Thomas last Tuesday night by cutting through the screen window. Mr. Thomas was awakened by the noise and they ran.

THE CLAY COUNTY ILLITERACY COMMISSION

Clay county has gone on record as being the first county to organize a County Illiteracy Commission to stamp out illiteracy. At the recent session of the Clay County Institute, addresses were made on the subject by Dr. J. T. C. Noe, Dean of Normal Department of State University, and by Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, President Kentucky Illiteracy Commission, and there was a hearty response, ninety-three teachers volunteered for service, $50.75 was contributed on the spot for expenses of postage, etc., although no contributions had been requested. A commission was formed to co-operate with Superintendent Luther Hatton in the campaign. The officers of the Commission elected by the Institute: Dr. I. S. Manning, President; T. L. Britton, Vice-President; Charles Goins, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Luther Hatton, Corresponding Secretary; J. W. Newell, Treasurer.

There are 2860 illiterates in Clay county, and men, women and children are enlisting to rid the county of illiteracy.

PRICE OF SUGAR GOES UP RAPIDLY

The price of granulated sugar in the wholesale market was advanced to 5½ cents per pound Monday, making a gain of more than a cent since the recent upward movement began. The advance was due primarily to the war in Europe which has removed foreign competition and has sent Great Britain into the local market for supplies, while at the same time the position has been further strengthened by the improved domestic demand.

Pleasure and Protection

"One of the best reasons why I would not be without telephone service," writes a Georgia farmer, "is the pleasure it gives my wife and the knowledge that while I am away, she has the protection that the telephone gives."

On the farm the telephone dispels loneliness and is the means of bringing help in any emergency that may arise.

If you haven't a telephone on your farm see the nearest Bell Telephone Manager or write for our free booklet and learn how little this service costs.
